Every Summer Has A Story

As I was looking at greeting cards the other day, I read one that had the quote, "Every Summer Has A Story". Curious as to the author, I googled it – I didn't get an answer, but apparently it is a pretty common saying – you could buy just about anything with that saying on it.

It may be common, but I like the message, especially as we are about to enter the summer of 2024 – What story will you write? I can remember childhood summers – the beach in Mississippi, Family BBQ's in Arkansas, Boy Scout Camp in New Mexico, and then the simpler things – ice cream, pools, sprinklers, fireflies, s'mores, camps, pick-up football games in the neighborhood, sleepovers at the grandparents, fishing, camping in the backyard, Vacation Bible School and no homework.

I look back with very fond memories, and a few sad ones as I think of those people who are no longer with us. How many of us would give just about anything to go back in time to relive just one of those days with family or friends? Great times. But great times are still ahead as well.

How will you use this summer? What story will you write? For many of us in Punta Gorda, we say the summer doesn't feel much different, except that it is hotter and some of our friends have headed back north – and there is less traffic. The pace does slow down a bit around here – but I want to encourage you to make some plans! (If you are reading this, stop by my office and pick out a summer treat from the basket.)

The writer of Ecclesiastes wrote in chapter three - There is a time for everything, and a season for every activity under the heavens: The writer goes on to list positive and negative things that are done. As you look to this summer, what are the positive activities you can get done? Make those phone calls to check on friends? Have people over for a cook-out? Write notes of encouragement to your children or grandchildren or great-grandchildren? If possible, visit with family? The point is to be intentional about the summer, don't let it just slip away.

Also, the writer of Ecclesiastes ends the book with this verse: Now all has been heard; here is the conclusion of the matter: Fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the duty of all mankind. To fear God, is to worship Him, not to be afraid of Him. This summer is also an opportunity to draw closer, to worship Him. So, with all the comings and goings of summer activities, don't forget about nurturing your faith – church, Bible Studies, Worship, Wednesday evening activities, Bible readings, Fellowship times, etc.

As you write your story of the summer of 2024, I hope it includes not only great times of fun with family and friends, but a summer that you can also look back on and say that you grew closer to our Lord and Saviour.

As Peter reminds us - But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. To him be glory both now and forever! Amen. As His disciples, let us grow this summer.

In His Name, Pastor Barksdale

DISCIPLESHIP WISDOM

Discipling Lost People into Jesus' Kingdom? by Bobby Harrington and Curt Erskine

“Metanoesein kai pistos emoi genesesthai!” These were the words of Flavius Josephus to a group of Jewish rebels in 66 A.D. commanding them to abandon their current course of action and to instead come under his command and direction. In English, we recognize his words as, “Repent and believe in me!”

To the Christian, this is reminiscent of the call of Jesus in the first chapter of Mark, “Metanoēō kai pisteuō en ho euangelion!” or, “Repent and believe in the good news!” What was the good news?

Jesus emphatically stated that the good news was, “The kingdom of God has come near!” (Mark 1:15).

The “good news” was that the King has come in person and he has established His kingdom, which will be fully consummated when he returns to the Earth. (Acts 3:21; Revelation 21:1ff) Therefore, the only proper response to the good news was to “repent,” to abandon our current course of action and come under the command of our ruling and saving King.

So, what does this have to do with discipling lost people into salvation?

You might have noticed in the statement of Jesus in Mark 1:15 that “good news” in Greek was, euangelion. The word, evangelism, is a version of transliterating the word, euangelion. Jesus proclaimed the gospel in Mark 1:14 and we are told to proclaim it in Mark 16:15. We proclaim the gospel (good news) that Jesus is the saving King and that we have been invited to repent and join His kingdom.

But is the expression, “proclaiming the gospel” something that is to be done in a church, through an evangelistic crusade, while standing on a street corner or through an informal discipling conversation? The answer is “yes”—proclaiming the good news includes all these forms of communication and more. But here is a good way to think about evangelism:

Think of evangelism as the front end of disciple making.

Now, if you grew up in North America you might be confused because you have always heard that evangelism was presenting a gospel that says, “Jesus died on the cross for your sins.” Someone might have even pointed you to 1 Corinthians 15:1-8 where Paul lays out the fundamentals of the gospel. However, when looking at these verses, we must remember that a first-century audience would have understood “Christ” to mean “the Anointed King” and that it was a direct reference to Jesus’ kingship both as an earthly descendant of David (as was written in Scripture) and as the enthroned King of Heaven after His resurrection. So, with that in mind, Paul wrote that the gospel was:

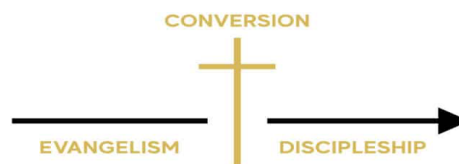

...that the Anointed King died for our sins according to the Scriptures, that he was buried, that he was raised on the third day according to the Scriptures. (1 Cor. 15:3-4)

Thus, reading between the lines and understanding this statement as a first-century reader, the gospel is not only that Jesus died for our sins, but that He is the Anointed King, descended from David, and is now enthroned in Heaven after His resurrection according to the Scriptures.

We can summarize the gospel by saying that Jesus is our Saving King – he invites everyone into his kingdom.

It is important to couple salvation and kingship together. That Jesus died for our sins cannot be separated from the fact that He is our King. Our response is to pledge faith, which is allegiance and faithfulness, to our king. The response to him is to place our faith in him, which brings salvation and puts us in his kingdom. (Colossians 1:13-14)

Traditionally, we think of evangelism as something we engage in to lead people to conversion. And then discipleship as something we do after conversion, to lead people to maturity, as they become more and more like Jesus. We can diagram it this way:

But is this dichotomy taught in scripture? Let's look at Matthew 28:18-20:

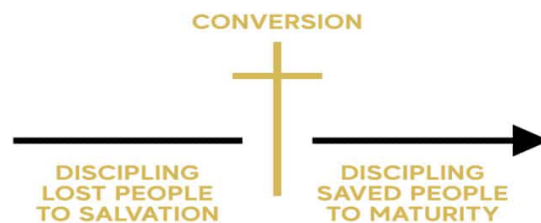

Then Jesus came to them and said, 'All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Therefore, go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And surely, I am with you always, to the very end of the age.'

In the Greek text, "make disciples" is in the imperative mode, which means it is a command that dominates the focus and meaning of the text. It is like Jesus said: make disciples, and here is how you do it.

Three expressions are in the participial mode, meaning they describe how you make disciples:

- Go
- Baptize (and)
- Teach Obedience

So, the great commission tells us to go, and; 1) disciple people into baptism (evangelism), and then; 2) disciple people to obey every command of Jesus (maturity). It would be better to diagram the teaching of Matthew 28:18-20 this way:

And, let's note something else... Evangelism, understood as proclaiming the gospel of the kingdom, is something that does not stop at the point of conversion. I need to hear the gospel regularly after conversion, as part of my ongoing discipleship in Jesus. I need to hear it from others and I need to hear it from myself. As Martin Luther used to say, "we need to preach the gospel to ourselves daily."

So, in short, we can put it this way:

- We privately proclaim in discipling relationships and publicly the "gospel/good news" that Jesus the saving King came into the world to offer his kingdom to all who repent and turn to him by faith.
- King Jesus' life, teachings, death, burial, resurrection, and ascension open the door to the salvation and new life found in his kingdom.
- We disciple people into faith in King Jesus so they can receive the salvation found in his kingdom.
- We disciple people into the faithfulness and obedience in King Jesus because it expresses the reality of his kingdom reign.
- We wait for King Jesus to return to fully consummate his kingdom — where we will live with him in sheer joy throughout eternity.

The only proper response to the good news is to "repent," to abandon our current courses of action in life and come under the rule of our saving King.

MILITARY PRAYER LIST

Prayer

O Prince of Peace, we humbly ask Your protection for all our men and women in military service. Give them unflinching courage to defend with honor, dignity and devotion the rights of all who are imperiled by injustice and evil. Guard our churches, our homes, our schools, our hospitals, our factories, our buildings, and all those within from harm and peril. Protect our land and its people from enemies within and without. Grant an early peace with victory founded upon justice. Instill in the hearts and minds of men and women everywhere a firm purpose to live forever in peace and good will towards all. Amen.

- * Major John McPherson, Air Force, great nephew of Marguerite O'Brien, stationed at Sheppard Air Force Base in Wichita Falls, Texas
- * Major Ryan Swisher, Army Ranger, grandson of Rachel Pfaender, stationed in North Carolina
- * Major Eric Engstrom, Army Intel., son of Alan Engstrom, stationed at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas
- * Captain Zadick Self, Marines, grandson-in-law of Ron Beasom, stationed in Peoria, Illinois
- * Navy Seaman Tyler Beasom, Navy, grandson of Ron Beasom, stationed in San Diego, California
- * Lt. Col. David Sifferd, Jr., Army Reserve, son of David Sifferd, stationed in Ft. Knox, KY
- * Pvt. Michael Robert Wagner, U.S. Marine Corp., great-grandson of Robert and Jean Humphreys, stationed in Hawaii
- * Second Lieutenant, JTAC, Alexander Kingsbury, Air Force, great-grandson of Tim Ronan, stationed in New York
- * Major Christina West, Army, granddaughter of William Dosse, stationed at Fort Liberty (formerly Fort Bragg, NC) and her husband Major Matt Walter, Army, currently deployed in the Middle East

*Do you have a family member serving in the military?
If so, we'd like to add them to the newsletter prayer list. Fill out the form that's on the sign-up table in the church foyer and place it in the HELMET or let the church office know.*

Prayer
Shawl
Ministry

My wife and I would like to say thank-you. All the prayers and positive thoughts went a long way towards our healing and recovery. It means alot to have a church in Florida thinking of us. I must say one of my biggest supporters is Deb M. (Gail Thornton's daughter). We work together and she told me about everyday 'with all the people praying for you, you will get a kidney'. The doctors said the normal wait is 3-5 years. Deb told me time and time again 'you won't have to wait that long'. I waited almost one year. The second person I told about my kidney was Deb (I had to tell my wife first). With all the love and support we got from your church, we like to give a little back and say Thank You and God Bless all of you. We are both doing great!!

First Presbyterian Church proudly supports
Missions from our church budget.
If you would personally like to make additional donations, please make checks payable to FPC and indicate the mission on the memo line.

INFORMATION FROM YOUR MISSION COMMITTEE

It was brought to our attention that there are people with Medicare Advantage Plans, which include OTC (over the counter) benefits, who do not use all of the provided funds that are offered each quarter or year. If this applies to you, we would like to suggest that you use your unused funds to purchase items for the homeless of Charlotte County who will benefit from them, such as antibiotic cream, band-aids, toothbrushes, toothpaste, hand sanitizer, insect repellent, etc. Because we work closely with Jesus Loves You Ministry, the items can be dropped off at church. Please contact Patti MacDonald or Gail Thornton with any questions.
